

TEUTONS STRIKING TO SHATTER RING DRAWN BY ALLIES AROUND SALONIKI

Athens Reports That the Germans, Aided by the Bulgars and the Turks, Have Begun an Attack on Positions Held by the Anglo-French Forces.

STEADY PROGRESS MADE BY THE AUSTRIAN FORCES AGAINST MONTENEGRINS

Capture of Mount Lovcen Opens Road to Montenegro Capital and Gives Austria Dominating Position on Adriatic—Italy Is Menaced by the Austrian Success—Russians Renew Drive at Austro-Germans.

London, January 12.—The Teutons, Bulgars and Turks have begun the long expected effort to drive the entente allies from Saloniki, according to an Athens dispatch to The Giornale d'Italia of Rome. The dispatch states that the British lines in the Doiran zone are being bombarded. Turks and Bulgars are taking part with the Germans in the attack.

CETTINJE IN PERIL

Cettinje, the capital of Montenegro, now seems likely to suffer the fate of Belgrade and British observers are already asking anxiously what menace the Austrian conquest of Montenegro is likely to hold over the allies at Saloniki.

Fighting is going on all around Cetinje, the small town which nearly a year ago ceased to be the seat of the Montenegrin government. Never before in the long history of the little Montenegrin kingdom has it been compelled to bow to a foreign conqueror, but there is little hope that it can long withstand the overwhelming strength of General Keovess in men and guns.

RUSSIANS RENEW THEIR ASSAULTS

On the Russian front the Austrian official communication records renewed desperate attacks by the Russians on the Bosnian frontier, but in the Balkans the attacks everywhere were repulsed. The Petrograd communication is silent on the subject but the Russians usually withhold mention of their movements until they are well on the road to completion.

There have been no important developments on the western front. The blowing up of a large German munitions depot near Lille is admitted in the German communication. According to one account this was due to a British air raid. The English press believes that the cautious wording of the German communication conceals a disaster of large proportions.

There is a great spirit of optimism in both British and French dispatches from the west front. The correspondents expressing the firm conviction of the allied generals that there is no

Combining of Primary Dates CALLS FOR MONEY $260,000 GREATER THAN CITY REVENUE

Chairman of State Democratic Executive Committee Calls Meeting of February 19 and Wants Counties to Hold Primaries on Dates Set for Presidential Primary.

Chairman E. J. Reagan, of the state democratic executive committee, was in Atlanta yesterday in conference with St. Elmo Massengale, secretary of the committee, and as the result of the conference Chairman Reagan authorized Secretary Massengale to issue a formal call for the meeting of the committee to be held in the Piedmont hotel, Atlanta, at noon Saturday, February 19.

At this meeting the state committee will issue the call for the election of delegates to the national democratic convention to be held in St. Louis, June 14.

Reagan on Early County Primaries. After the call had been decided upon Judge Reagan said to a Constitution reporter:

"The state committee meeting on February 19 will no doubt call a state primary to be held perhaps during the latter part of April, or certainly not later than early in May, the state convention to be called for a later date. 'In this connection,' continued Judge Reagan, 'I wish to say that those counties of the state which are arranging for early primaries for county officers should not fix a date different from that to be fixed by the state committee. There is no reason whatsoever for a rush to nominate county officers in primaries held before April, and while it is true that only one or two counties have so far acted, I believe that they will later change their date to the date to be fixed by the state committee.'

"Under the law of Georgia the governor, general assembly and state house officers cannot be nominated before August, so that a primary for these positions must necessarily be postponed until that month.

Early Presidential Primary. "With the presidential primary, however, it is different. That must be held in the spring for the national convention meets on June 14 and the state

Mayor Expected to Veto Financial Sheet and Council Will Then Be Called Upon to Pass It Over His Head.

SHEET WILL BE READY FOR COUNCIL MONDAY

Councilman Johnson's Resolution to Cut Off All Salaries for Councilmen and Aldermen Tabled.

The tentative January apportionment sheet made by the finance committee of council carries an excess of about $260,000 over the estimated receipts for the year.

Some of the apportionments may be eliminated when the sheet is revised for council, but it will still retain probably over a hundred thousand dollars more than the receipts as estimated.

When the sheet is adopted by council it will probably be vetoed by the mayor and council will then be called upon to pass it over his head.

The members of the committee will make a fight for the appropriations already made, and will object to the pruning-knife being used to cut off the money given for the various improvements in their respective wards.

Schools Taken Care Of. At the morning session the committee heard from the school department, and Major R. J. Quinn, president of the board, and Dan W. Green, chairman of the finance committee of the board, urged the necessity of making the appropriations called for in the budget.

The committee added $14,700 to the tentative apportionment sheet. The first amount given for the schools was $714,451.74. The additional appropriation was for a new school house in the Exposition Mills district, to cost $14,000, a negro night school on Mitchell street to cost $3,500, and the improvement of the sanitary condition of the State Prison and Houston street.

Walter Pollard died and Dr. J. T. Wadkins and Virgil Hemperly are seriously injured at Union City.

Union City, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—Walter Pollard was instantly killed and Dr. J. T. Wadkins and Virgil Hemperly were seriously injured when the Central of Georgia train No. 19, from Atlanta to Columbus, collided with Dr. Wadkins' large automobile here at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Mr. Hemperly, it is thought, is seriously injured internally besides having an arm broken and his left ankle crushed. Dr. Wadkins' left leg was broken.

The accident occurred within a few feet of the depot, the Central of Georgia train using the West Point track to Newnan. The large automobile was literally torn to fragments and it is considered miraculous that all three occupants were not killed.

Dr. J. T. Wadkins, Dr. Tom Longino and Dr. C. M. Curtis, who reached the scene within a few minutes after the accident occurred, believe that Dr. Wadkins and Mr. Hemperly will recover.

Mr. Pollard, who was killed, was 34 years of age. He leaves a wife and one child. He was born and reared in Campbell county and was a highly respected citizen.

ATLANTA INDORSED FOR INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION IN 1917

New Orleans, La., January 12.—(Special.)—The second annual convocation of Southern Rotary clubs opened at the Greenwood hotel here this morning. Mayor Behrman delivered the address of welcome, which was responded to by John Turner, of Tampa, Fla., International President, Allen D. Albert and Secretary Chesley R. Perry are here and made addresses.

Luncheon was given at Kolbs restaurant, where each city represented was allowed five minutes to tell why his town is famous. Atlanta took the lead on this in entertaining conventions.

Ninety per cent of the representatives here have indorsed Atlanta for the 1917 international convention.

The Atlanta Rotary club is represented here by Evelyn Harris, chairman of the delegation; Kendall Weisiger, C. O. Beauchamp, Jim Thomas, Victor Smith, and your correspondent.

The delegates to the convocation were entertained tonight at an informal banquet at which Allen D. Albert, of Minneapolis, president of the international association, and George E. Leonard, of Jacksonville, Fla., made addresses.

Knapp Estate to Widow With Exception of $1; That's for Daughter

St. Louis, Mo., January 12.—The will of Charles W. Knapp, former president of The St. Louis Republic and at the time of his death last Thursday treasurer of The New York Times, was filed here today. All the estate was left to the widow except that one dollar was bequeathed to a daughter, Mrs. Guthrie McConnell, of Waterloo, Iowa.

An inventory was filed with the will no indication of the value of Mr. Knapp's estate was to be had tonight.

Despite Outburst in Congress President Wilson Won't Alter His Policy Regarding Mexico

CONGRESS SWEPT BY WAVE OF ANGER OVER THE MASSACRE

Demands for Action Came From Republicans and Senator Sherman Introduces Resolution Looking to Intervention.

SPIRIT OF RESENTMENT DIFFICULT TO RESTRAIN

Democratic Leaders Counseled Patience, But Senator Stone Admitted That Unless Carranza Protects Foreigners Intervention Is Inevitable.

Washington, January 12.—Congress was swept by a wave of impassioned indignation today over the killing of American citizens by Mexican bandits near Chihuahua. Demands for action came from minority members, and while the administration leaders counseled patience, even Senator Stone, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, admitted that if Carranza, after a fair trial, failed to protect foreigners in Mexico, intervention was inevitable.

The atmosphere was surcharged with excitement when the senate and house met, and the storm broke quickly. Senator Sherman, republican of Illinois, introduced a resolution to express the sense of congress that there should be intervention by the United States and Pan-American nations unless General Carranza could comply with demands that he protect the lives and property of foreigners in the house, Representative Dyer, of Missouri, offered a resolution asking President Wilson if he did not think the time had arrived to abandon waterfowl waiting and invade Mexico.

The resolutions were not acted upon, both being referred to the foreign affairs committee. But there was aroused by the latest Mexican atrocity a general spirit of resentment that most conservative leaders found it difficult to restrain.

Carranza Sees Powerless. Senators Gallinger and Borah, on the republican side of the upper house, echoed the terms of the Sherman resolution, which declared that the Carranza government appeared powerless to cope with the lawlessness in Mexico, and declared intervention the only alternative unless reparation for the Chihuahua outrage were speedily made and the de facto government showed itself capable of controlling the situation.

Senator Stone urged patriotic support of the president and patient forbearance until the experiment of trying out the Carranza government should prove a failure.

"If Carranza proves himself inefficient," he added, however, "if he is unable to punish criminals and to insure safety to foreigners in Mexico, I think with the senator from Idaho, Mr. Borah, that there is only one thing to do and that is to go down there armed and intervene."

Senator Thomas, of Colorado, also advised against intervention except as an unavoidable resort, declaring that the United States never would get out of Mexico if its armed forces were to take the Carranza government by force.

Senator Borah, of Idaho, emphatically declared that Carranza had come for the American people to let their sentiment on the Mexican problem be the arbiter, and that the administration's policy as "side-stepping, procrastinating, apologetic and un-American."

In the house discussion following introduction of the Dyer resolution was reminiscent of the time when the United States was at war with Mexico, and denouncing former Governor Coquett, of Texas, for an attack on the president's Mexican policy.

The Sherman Resolution. The resolution of Senator Sherman in regard to the killing of Americans in Mexico follows:

"Whereas Mexico is now and has for several years been ruled with civil strife, which, in the absence of any

WILLIAM BEARDEN DEFEATED BY SAXE

Clerk in City Tax Office Loses Place Although Delegation of Shriner Friends Made Appeal for Him.

George H. Saxe was elected as a clerk in the city tax office by the tax committee of council yesterday afternoon in place of William M. Bearden.

It was claimed that a political fight was made on Bearden and a large delegation of Shriners, including a number of Shriners, were at the city hall yesterday morning in his behalf. The delegation of Shriners, to which order Bearden belonged, was headed by Walter F. Andrews.

When the committee met to hold the election Mr. Andrews made an appeal for Bearden. He said that he represented a fraternal organization of 2,100 citizens, and that among them were hundreds of friends of Bearden, who were anxious that he be retained. He stated that he had made diligent inquiry and had found that he had made a faithful and efficient clerk. Mr. Andrews made it clear in his talk that the Shriners are a fraternal and not a political organization, and that those who appeared for him were doing so in their personal capacity.

Bearden Loses Place. "In the name of justice, right and fairness," he said, "I beg you not to dismiss this man from office."

When the roll was called the first ballot stood as follows:

For Bearden: Farlinger and Seawright.

For Saxe: Renfro and Woodall.

For Saxe: Dallas: McDonald.

The second ballot stood:

For Saxe: Renfro, Woodall and McDonald—3.

For Bearden: Farlinger and Seawright—2.

Saxe was declared elected.

Bearden is an ex-conductor. Saxe was employed in the tax office several years ago.

Other Clerks Elected. The other clerks, who were unanimously elected, were:

George H. Beauchamp, chief clerk; W. C. Gilford, E. A. Johnson, John E. Holliday, W. H. Dillard, Miss Mary Pihlsback, stenographer, and John T. Collier, tax investigator.

The friends of Bearden stated after the election that a fight would be made to overturn the action of the committee. The elections must be ratified by council.

LAST SACRAMENTS GIVEN TO HUERTA

Death of the Former Provisional President of Mexico Is Momentarily Expected at El Paso.

El Paso, Tex., January 12.—The death of Victoriano Huerta, once provisional president of Mexico, was momentarily expected at 8:10 o'clock tonight. At 5:35 Huerta's family was called to his bedside. At 4 o'clock the final sacraments were administered.

At 3:35 Huerta suffered the second hemorrhage since early this evening and it was feared the end was near.

HUERTA AND AGENTS INDICTED AS PLOTTERS. San Antonio, Texas, January 12.—General Victoriano Huerta, his former purchasing agent, Jose E. Ratner, and ten others were indicted here last today by a federal grand jury for conspiracy to violate the neutrality laws.

Half of the passengers on board the Brindisi were lost. The crew was saved. Nearly all on board the Citta di Palermo, which was an armed vessel, were saved.

The Brindisi was sunk January 8 and the Citta di Palermo January 9.

The Brindisi was of 451 tons and was owned at Bari. The Citta di Palermo was built in 1910 and was of 2,415 tons gross. She was a turbine vessel and was owned by the Italian State Railway of Palermo. This vessel should not be confused with the vessel of the same name which is owned by W. F. Becker, of Messina, and which sailed from Galveston January 4 for Barcelona by way of Norfolk.

No Action Is Likely Beyond a Demand for the Apprehension and Punishment of the Outlaws Who Murdered Americans.

BUTCHERY IS DENOUNCED IN NOTE SENT CARRANZA AND SATISFACTION ASKED

Secretary Lansing Credits the Atrocity to Villa Bandits and Says Men Were Killed Simply Because They Were Americans. Lansing Regrets Americans Did Not Heed Warning Against Entering Guerilla Warfare Territory

Washington, January 12.—There was no indication tonight that the United States would take any action in the case of the Americans killed by Villa bandits in Mexico beyond a demand for the apprehension and punishment of the outlaws; or at the most, to hold General Carranza responsible if it is shown that his officials were negligent in protecting the party.

Although the latest outrage stirred the simmering Mexican situation again to the boiling point and drew an outburst of attacks upon the administration in congress, probably unequalled since the Huerta crisis two years ago, there was no outward sign that President Wilson was being influenced to alter his policy.

A proposal by Senator Sherman, republican, for joint intervention by the Pan-American nations, which led in the recognition of General Carranza, was referred without action to the senate foreign relations committee.

Every Step Will Be Taken. "Every step will be taken to see that the perpetrators of this dastardly crime are apprehended and punished," he added, "and it was to be deplored that Americans had not heeded the state department's warning against exposing their lives in the guerilla warfare territory. In defining the right of Americans in territory under the sovereignty of another nation, the secretary declared that a non-combatant runs the danger of losing his liberty or his life if he ventures into territory where the authority is uncertain.

Although the attacks in congress upon President Wilson's policy were almost unmeasured in terms, the administration was not without defenders among the democratic leaders, who challenged their critics to point out a better course, and recalled that during the Taft administration resolutions proposing intervention were vigorously opposed by the republicans.

The most significant development of the congressional debate came in the senate, where Chairman Stone, of the foreign relations committee, himself a democrat, declared that if General Carranza proved himself unable to restore order "there is only one thing to do, and that is to go down there armed and intervene."

For the present, he counselled leaving the situation in the hands of President Wilson.

Lansing Denounces Slaying. Secretary Lansing, with the approval of President Wilson, today dispatched to Consul Silliman at Queretaro for presentation to General Carranza a formal denunciation of the Carranza bandits near Chihuahua by Mexican bandits and calling upon the head of the de facto government for the immediate pursuit, capture and punishment of the perpetrators of the deed.

The note urged the sending of troops to other districts where Americans are

ECONOMY!

Buy-Right Hints for the Housewife

The Practice of Thrift Is the Pursuit of Economy

Little sermons on SAVING are printed every morning in the ADVERTISING pages of The Constitution. They are brief, and to the point. They are just PRICES—Prices that will save you from 10 to 50 per cent in your purchases of the necessities of life—your meat—your groceries—your shoes, clothing, white goods; by the bolt, or garments ready made. Linens, laces, to add to the charm of personal graces. Millinery, gowns, dresses, coats and wraps: the prices printed are regular "snaps"—and there are hundreds of other necessary things always advertised in The Constitution at the lowest prices: Drugs, Medicines, and housekeeping needs, priced on the principle of economy's creeds.

Most everything you buy can be bought for much less if you'll read The Constitution in the mornin'.

NOTE—The CONSTITUTION guarantees a marked saving on every purchase made in Atlanta in stores that advertise their lowest prices in these pages.

in danger of losing their lives or property. At the same time the state department ordered an investigation of the murders with a view of determining whether they resulted from the failure of the de facto government to give proper protection in a zone known by it to be dangerous or whether the men lost their lives as the result of a bandit outbreak which could not have been foreseen.

Instructions to seek information on this point were telegraphed to consular representatives in Mexico and along the border.

In the note to General Carranza the killing of the Americans was described as a dastardly crime, committed in territory announced to be in control of the Carranza forces. The men were killed, General Carranza was informed, because they were Americans after they had gone into the country with the consent of the Carranza military authorities.

The Note for Carranza.
The text of the dispatch to Consul Sullivan follows:
"On January 10, C. B. Watson, chairman of the Mine and Smelter Operators' association of Chihuahua and the general manager of the Cosmopolitan Mining company, with fifteen of his associates, all representative Americans, while en route from Chihuahua to their mine at Cosmopolis, were taken on the train forty miles west of Chihuahua City by bandits operating under the direction of General Villa, stripped naked and deliberately shot and killed. Their bodies are being brought to El Paso."

"It is stated these men were murdered because they were Americans and were killed in accordance with the general policy publicly announced recently by Villa. This atrocious act occurred within a few miles of Chihuahua City in territory announced to be in control of the Carranza forces. The Villa bands robbing about in western Chihuahua publicly threaten all Americans with death and destruction of their property. Following the occupation of Chihuahua by Obregon's forces many Americans returned to Chihuahua to resume operations with the consent of the military authorities of the de facto government."

"Urgently bring the foregoing to the attention of General Carranza and request that he cause immediate and efficient pursuit, capture and punishment of the perpetrators of the dastardly crime. This atrocious act occurred within a few miles of Chihuahua City in territory announced to be in control of the Carranza forces. The Villa bands robbing about in western Chihuahua publicly threaten all Americans with death and destruction of their property. Following the occupation of Chihuahua by Obregon's forces many Americans returned to Chihuahua to resume operations with the consent of the military authorities of the de facto government."

"Request to be informed of action taken."
Advice Disregarded, Says Lansing.
In addition to sending the note to General Carranza, Secretary Lansing issued the following statement:
"In October the department sent the strongest kind of instructions to the consuls in the states of Chihuahua and Sonora, calling upon them to use every means in their power to persuade Americans to leave immediately for United States territory, and these consuls were instructed to employ special riders to carry this message to Americans located in isolated districts. A few came out. Some regardless of the disturbed conditions existing in Mexico did not heed the warning."

"It was only two or three weeks ago that Villa detained thirty Americans in the district in which the unfortunate Americans now reported killed met their death. Great alarm was felt for the safety of these thirty Americans. Recently the Villalistas are said to have stated that they would kill Americans in Chihuahua territory in order to force American intervention. Within the past week or ten days three employees of the Hearst ranch in Chihuahua near the place where Americans are now reported slain were reported to have been executed. Two of these three employees made their appearance at El Paso some days ago, but the third appears to have been killed."

"The department feels that it took every possible precaution to prevent Americans from exposing their lives in a region where guerrilla warfare is in progress. It is to be deplored that its advice was not followed. Every step will be taken to see that the perpetrators of this dastardly crime are apprehended and punished."

possibility of any successful German offensive anywhere in the west lines. The correspondent of Reuters sends from British headquarters an interview with an unnamed staff officer who was quoted as saying: "We now have full information about the German forces facing us. We know their exact dispositions and strength. We everywhere outnumber the Germans and also outnumber them in both field and heavy artillery and our weapons are better than theirs. We can fire five shells to their one without depleting our munitions. We can take their first line of trenches whenever we wish."

"To say that we have got them beaten is dangerous rubbish, but the truth is we have got them ready for a beating."

TEUTONS ATTACK IN THE BALKANS.

Rome, January 13.—(Via London.) An Athens dispatch to The Giornale d'Italia says:
"An attack by the Teutonic allies on the entente positions has begun with a bombardment of the British lines in the Doiran zone, which lasted the entire day."

"The attacking troops are distributed as follows: The Germans on the west front around Monastir; the Bulgarians on the Gjevelj Doiran line; the Turks on the east flank."

Paris, January 13.—Heavy cannonading was heard during the day from the direction of Doiran, across the northern Greek border, says a Havas dispatch from Athens under Tuesday's date. Apparently an artillery duel was in progress, says the correspondent.

VILLA GENERALS LED THE BUTCHERS OF 19 AMERICANS

Reyna and Lopez Were in Command of the Men Who Perpetrated the Horror in Western Chihuahua.

El Paso, Texas, January 13.—Pablo Lopez, Villa chief, and General Reyna, two Villa generals, led the men who assassinated a group of American miners on Monday near Santa Ysabel, Mexico, and the massacre was committed close in the wake of a Carranza troop train, according to information of the affair gathered tonight. Statements made by J. Gladstone Gardens, conductor of a train bearing the Americans, and Thomas B. Holmes, the only known survivor of the American party, indicate that the murder of the United States citizens was deliberate.

19 Americans Killed.
It was also learned that the total Americans slain numbered nineteen. The bodies are now on the way to El Paso from Chihuahua, west of which city the massacre took place. A mass meeting to protest against the failure of Mexican authorities and against the attitude of the United States government on the Mexican situation, planned for El Paso tonight, was postponed until after the arrival of the murdered men.

Conductor Gardens, in an affidavit given to the British consul at Chihuahua, said that the train bearing the Americans was stopped by a derailed train in a cut. The train was carrying a group of equipment bearing Carranza troops. The conductor said that General Reyna held the trainmen under guard while the Americans were robbed and shot to death. Those who were wounded in the first fusillade were later shot dead.

Details obtained tonight were to the effect that a score of Mexican armed men attacked the train which was bearing the mining men to mines owned by the estate of Potter Palmer, of Chicago. There were some 500 other bandits grouped as a reserve force along the right-of-way of the railroad.

Holmes arrived in El Paso from Chihuahua today after his frightful experience, which he related briefly in a statement.

Revised List of Victims.

A revised list of casualties follows:
C. R. Watson, El Paso; W. J. Wallace, El Paso; M. B. Romero, El Paso; T. M. Evans, Chihuahua City; C. A. Fringale, San Francisco; Maurice Anderson, Chihuahua; R. P. MacHattion, El Paso; A. Couch, Chihuahua City; E. W. Coy, El Paso; Alexander O. Hall, Douglas, Ariz.; Charles Wadleigh, Biebee, Ariz.; E. Robinson, El Paso; G. W. Newman, El Paso; C. W. Hase, Miami, Ariz.; R. H. Simmons, El Paso; W. D. Pearce, Los Angeles; J. W. Woom, El Paso; Thomas Johnson, address unknown; Joe Enders, Hayden, Ariz.; Romero was a Mexican and Couch a Canadian and Robinson an Englishman.

Arrivals from Chihuahua City said that a troop of two cars of this train, varying between 500 and 1,000 Carranza troops, had preceded the mining company special by about fifteen minutes.

The engine and two cars of this train were said to have been derailed by the bandits in order to stop the passenger train of Americans. What became of the Carranza soldiers, if they were in the military train, could not be learned here.

Thomas B. Holmes, the sole foreign survivor of the massacre, reached the border here about noon in a state of collapse.

Survivor Tells Story.

Following is the statement of Mr. Holmes as given to the state department and press tonight:
"Our train left Chihuahua City Monday morning, January 10, at about 11 o'clock. The train was stopped at or about the ranch between 1:30 and 2 o'clock that afternoon. While the train was standing at the station of Santa Ysabel two armed Mexicans rode by and scrutinized the train. The Mexican passengers at Santa Ysabel told me afterward that the riders had inquired if there were any soldiers on the train."

"At the point of the massacre our train was stopped in a cut so that the last car was just outside of the cut. We were stopped by another train—the front trucks of one of the coal cars of which was seen to be of the track. This was the first we knew of a train preceding us. There was nobody to be seen around the train in front of us."

"When our train was stopped Newman and I were sitting together and Evans came up and looked out of the window. Evans, Newman, MacHattion and I then got off the train. Watson was either getting off or about to do so behind us when I looked back and saw him."

"Just after alighting I heard a volley of rifle shots from a point on the other side of the cut and just above the train. Looking around, I could see a bunch of about twelve or fifteen men standing in a solid line, shoulder to shoulder, shooting directly at us. They were fifty or seventy-five feet away. The coach cut off my view so I could not see how many bandits there were. The depth of the cut on the side near Santa Ysabel river at the point was about two feet. On the other side it was much greater. To the rear of the train was an embankment declining toward the river."

"Watson, after getting off, ran toward the river. MacHattion and I followed. MacHattion fell. I do not know whether he was killed then or tripped. Watson kept running and they were still shooting at him when I turned and ran down grade, where I fell in some brush, probably 100 feet from the rear of the train."

Saw Mexicans Shooting.
"I lay there perfectly quiet and looked around and could see the Mexicans shooting in the direction in which Watson was running."
"I saw that they were not shooting at men, and thinking they believed me already dead, I took a chance and crawled into some thicker bushes. I crawled through the bushes and reached the bank of the stream. I then made my way to a point probably 10 yards from the train. There I lay under the bank for half an hour and heard shots by our Americans. Then I could hear no more and the bank, wading the stream part of the time, until I reached a point probably 20 yards from the train. I remained half or three-quarters of an hour. Later, after going to several ranch houses and picking up some unknown Mexican who directed me to Chihuahua City I reached Chihuahua City Tuesday morning at about 7:30. The foregoing facts are of my personal knowledge."

Friends Confident Hardman Will Enter Race for Governor

Dr. L. G. Hardman, of Commerce, candidate in the last gubernatorial campaign and prospective candidate for governor in the coming campaign this summer, was in Atlanta yesterday on his way from a meeting of the board of directors of the experiment station at Griffin.

While Dr. Hardman would not commit himself for publication, friends in Atlanta stated positively that he had told them that he will run for governor. Dr. Hardman has already stated that he would have a statement up on the gubernatorial situation in the near future.

Prospect in fact, are for at least a three-cornered race. Governor Harris has already announced that he intends to run to succeed himself. It seems practically assured that Dr. Hardman will oppose him. The third man will most likely be W. E. Thomas, of Valdosta, who was in Atlanta on Tuesday. Since his visit his friends here have been positive in their expression of belief that he will run. There is also the possibility of Solicitor General Hugh Dorsey running.

In his inaugural address the new President Ogden Persons, of the state senate, and Speaker W. H. Burwell, of the house, are also mentioned in connection with the gubernatorial contest.

DEMOCRATS CONTROL MARYLAND GOVERNMENT

Annapolis, Md., January 13.—Maryland today returned to democracy in both branches of the state government, with the inauguration of Governor Emerson C. Harrington.

In his inaugural address the new executive pointed out that the state had a deficit of $1,500,000 because of present system of appropriations and said that the establishment of a budget was a matter of actual necessity.

The legislative expenses of the state had been shown to be "beyond any necessity," Governor Harrington said. He urged the enactment of laws making it impossible for any succeeding legislature to "again transgress public decency" in that respect.

CYCLONE CUTS PATH THRO' TENNESSEE TOWN

Madison Station, Near Nashville, Badly Damaged. Four Are Injured.

Nashville, Tenn., January 12.—Four persons were injured and a number of houses were destroyed by a cyclone which swept Madison station, 9 miles from Nashville, this afternoon. The injured are Mrs. L. Sullivan, Mrs. B. F. Bixler, Harry Armstrong and William Chaffin.

The cyclone twisted into the town about 3 o'clock when the weather was warm and just preceding a drop of about 15 degrees in temperature. It cut a path about 100 feet wide through the town, crumpling every house within its path. The public school was in session, the children having just moved today from their former building. The building they were in today was just outside the course of the wind. The building they occupied yesterday was torn into splinters by the cyclone today. The injured persons were caught under flying debris of houses and barns and suffered broken bones and other injuries. Wires were torn down and the interurban railway was unable to operate its cars and it was some time before assistance could be sent to the stricken town from Nashville.

GREEK ISLE OF CORFU OCCUPIED BY FRENCH

London, January 12.—A French detachment has been landed on the Greek island of Corfu for provisional occupation, according to an Athens dispatch to Reuters Telegram company. Fourteen ships of unknown nationality are cruising around Corfu.

French soldiers occupied the Achilleon, on which the French flag was hoisted.

The occupation of Corfu, say the what has happened on other Greek islands. The matter has been taken under consideration by the Greek cabinet, and a protest against the occupation of Corfu, which is being formulated in the form of a note to the French government, is expected to be more energetic than previous protests sent to the entente powers.

It is understood that the landing of the French troops is preparatory to the transference there of a portion of the Serbian army for the purpose of rest and refitting.

The Achilleon was erected in 1890 for the Empress Elizabeth of Austria. The villa was purchased in 1907 by the German emperor.

A Rome dispatch to the Stefani bureau says that Corfu advises report that a French warship landed a detachment of troops on Tuesday evening in order to prepare for the arrival of Serbian troops.

PARLIAMENT VOTES FOR CONSCRIPTION

Compulsory Service Bill Is Passed on Second Reading by 431 to 39—Labor Members Will Not Leave the Cabinet.

London, January 12.—Amid scenes of uproarious enthusiasm, the house of commons at 11 o'clock tonight defeated a motion to reject the military service bill by a vote of 431 to 39.

Afterward the house acceded to the premier's request by passing the second reading of the bill without division.

The vote was chiefly interesting on account of the changed attitude of many of the 105 members who opposed it on the first reading.

The debates were closed by Arthur Henderson, president of the board of education, in a much applauded speech. He said that he was not satisfied with the bill because of definite assurances given his friends and himself by the premier.

In the name of the whole cabinet, he was able to remain for the present in the coalition ministry. This fact would be regarded at home and abroad as a symbol of the nation's unity. He closed with the statement:

"I have the authority of Earl

Kitchener and the cabinet staff that we require at once not only the unmarried men enrolled under the Derby scheme, not only the married men who are waiting to be called, but also the whole available part of the 550,000 men with whom the nation is dealing."

The opposition in the house of commons to the conscription bill crumbled tonight to a few conscientious objectors. A fortnight ago the anti-conscriptionists claimed 200 votes, but on the night when they were able to muster only 105, of whom more than one-half were Irish nationalists.

AT THE THEATERS

William Faversham.

(At the Atlanta.)

Because he has firmly established himself as a producer who believes that the first function of the theater is entertainment and at the same time maintains its highest ideal, the appearance of Mr. William Faversham in a new production is always an event of first importance.

For this reason the announcement of Mr. Faversham's coming engagement in his great success, "The Hawk," at the Atlanta theater Tuesday and Wednesday, January 11 and 12, will awaken lively anticipation among theatergoers.

Mr. Faversham does not bring "The Hawk" to this city as an experiment, for its popularity earned it a year's run in the New York city and it is an experiment of like period when presented in the French version at the Ambigu theater, Paris.

In "The Hawk" it is said that Mr. Faversham has found a part worthy of his talents as a player of the French stage.

Characterization is delightful in every particular. It is pleasant to note in his support the usual excellent organization for which his plays have always been notable. Mr. Faversham endeavors always to give the fullest pleasure of the theater and in the present instance all sorts of players will find that he has a play to their liking.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

Not only a revel of delight for the women, but an act of entertainment for the men—even those who do not care for an exhibit of frocks and furbelows—is the big fashion show which Manager George H. Hickman presents as chief feature of the Keith vaudeville bill at the Forsyth this week.

The songs and dances by Emille Lea, who has shown resplendently in Ziegfeld's follies and sundry musical comedies, and the beautiful dance interpretation of the Spirit of Autumn by Helen Rigby, are among the pleasing incidental features. Added to these is a display of the newest creations of the foremost style masters.

Alfred Bergen, a baritone of a singularly pleasing voice, is another feature of this week's bill, and one of the biggest hits of the bill is an act by Al and Fanny Steadman. The program also presents Dorothy DeBelle and company in a comedy playlet called "Crookology," Luigi Roma's troupe of whirling acrobats and the dance review of Blisset and Scott.

"The Turmoil."

(At the Strand.)

"The Turmoil," a five-act adaptation from the novel of the same name by Booth Tarkington and released on the Metro program, will be the attraction at the Strand theater today. Those who witnessed this picture Wednesday found it to be a most pleasing production. Miss Vaill is featured, and George Le Guere is featured. Miss Vaill will be remembered in "The High Road," "The Woman Pays," and other Metro masterpieces. Mr. Le Guere was last seen in "The Birth of a Nation," which is being shown at the Lyric this week, and is increasing daily and hundreds are taking opportunity to see the exclusive Atlanta showing of these thrilling films, photographed under the direction of the French government. Some of the scenes are of such daring action that the fact that they are real is almost inconceivable. Every foot of the picture is action as realistic as a trip to the trenches. This picture, which is shown at the Lyric all week, is run continually from 12:30 until 11 p. m.

"Fighting for France."

(At the Lyric.)

Interest in the great war picture, "Fighting for France," which is being shown at the Lyric this week, is increasing daily and hundreds are taking opportunity to see the exclusive Atlanta showing of these thrilling films, photographed under the direction of the French government. Some of the scenes are of such daring action that the fact that they are real is almost inconceivable. Every foot of the picture is action as realistic as a trip to the trenches. "The Golden Chance."

(At the Grand.)

Atlanta people who recall with delight the notable work of Wallace Reid in "The Birth of a Nation" will have opportunity to see this popular star in another role in "The Golden Chance," the thrilling society drama which is the offering at the Grand today, Friday and Saturday. Mr. Reid also is familiar to Atlantans through his splendid work in "Carmen" with Geraldine Farrar.

"The Golden Chance," the newest of the Lucky productions, features Cleo Ridgely, one of the most captivating of the Paramount stars. "The Golden Chance" is Jeanie McPherson's greatest love story success. It will be offered for three days because of the great demand for first-run Paramount features, shown exclusively at the Grand.

"Fatty and Mabel Adrift."

(At the Vaudeville.)

Mabel Normand, "Keaton's Mabel," the charming little actress who claims Atlanta as her home, has recovered from injuries received in a recent automobile accident and appears again today and Friday at the Vaudeville theater in "Fatty and Mabel Adrift." The strong dramatic offering for these two days is "The Corner," an fine production, featuring George Fawcett, Clara Williams and Willard Mack. The plot turns about the degradation of a pretty wife through the dire need of poverty.

Mary Pickford.

(At the Georgian.)

The darling of the screens, Mary Pickford, the picture world's most idolized artist and the lightest star in the business, is the attraction at the Georgian theater today and tonight. "Rage" is her greatest success. In the role of the pitiful little founding she has the most appealing role of her celebrated career. Critics throughout the country agree that in no other picture does she show to greater advantage. Produced by the Famous Players studio, the picture abounds in beautiful scenery, expert direction and stunning effects. Friday the Georgian will offer Blanche in "The Yankee Girl," her most notable stage success.

"WOLF OF WALL STREET" HAS FILED DEMURRER

New York, January 12.—David L. Mar, the so-called "Wolf of Wall Street," filed a demurrer today in the federal district court against the indictment charging him with conspiring with officers of Labor's National Peace Council and Franz von Brintzen, a German agent, to instigate strikes in munitions factories.

Lamar claims that the allegations in the indictment are insufficient to constitute an offense against the laws of the United States.

Similar demurrers were filed yesterday by Frank S. Monnet, former attorney general of Ohio, and Jacob C. Taylor, president of Labor's National Peace Council.

The price of coal is said to have reached 110 a ton at home, and ships are being taken to bring it from Japan, where the cost is just one-tenth as great.

Crepe de Chine Underwear Priced For The Better-Than-Ever Sale

Indeed, a Better-Than-Ever Sale—we give further proof of it today.

Crepe de chine underwear, rich, heavy, all silk crepe de chine that every woman likes goes now at prices much less than would ordinarily obtain. And the reason, the garments are not so fresh as they might be, a bit mussed, perhaps a faint little mark where black gloves have touched them; by no means hurt—that we assure you. The reductions are not warranted, but it's that time of the year when we are striving to outdo ourselves in the Underwear Section, so we take this as an excuse, so to speak, and price things so that they are now out-and-out values.

$2.98 Combination Suits $1.98

Two Notable Announcements Concerning French Hand-Made Lingerie

No. I.—Reduced Prices

A little group of odd pieces of French hand-made underwear have their prices changed very materially for an immediate clearaway—because having been handled they are somewhat soiled.

Corset Covers and Drawers at Half Price

They were $3.00, $3.50, $4.00 and $5.00
They are $1.50, $1.75, $2.00 and $2.50

Chemises were $1.50, $2.00 and $3.00
They are 98c, $1.25 and $1.50

No. II.—New Arrivals.

We have done what was thought impossible a little while ago. We have received from war-busy France new hand-made and hand-embroidered underwear—the inimitable, the exquisite lingerie. And what is even more remarkable the prices are a shade lower than the same qualities, the same workmanship cost when conditions in France were normal.

Some of the daintiest, most exquisite work we have ever shown.

There are:

Gowns at $3.50, $4.25, $5.00 to $12.00
Corset Covers at $2.25 to $5.00
Chemises at $1.65 to $5.00

In the Fashion Show at the Forsyth, An Evening Gown by Estelle Mershon

It will doubtless prove of interest to Atlanta women to know that one of the most graceful and beautiful gowns of this show was developed by the Specialty Shop of Estelle Mershon, 20 East 46th St., New York, of which Miss Stella Price, an Atlanta woman, is the guiding spirit.

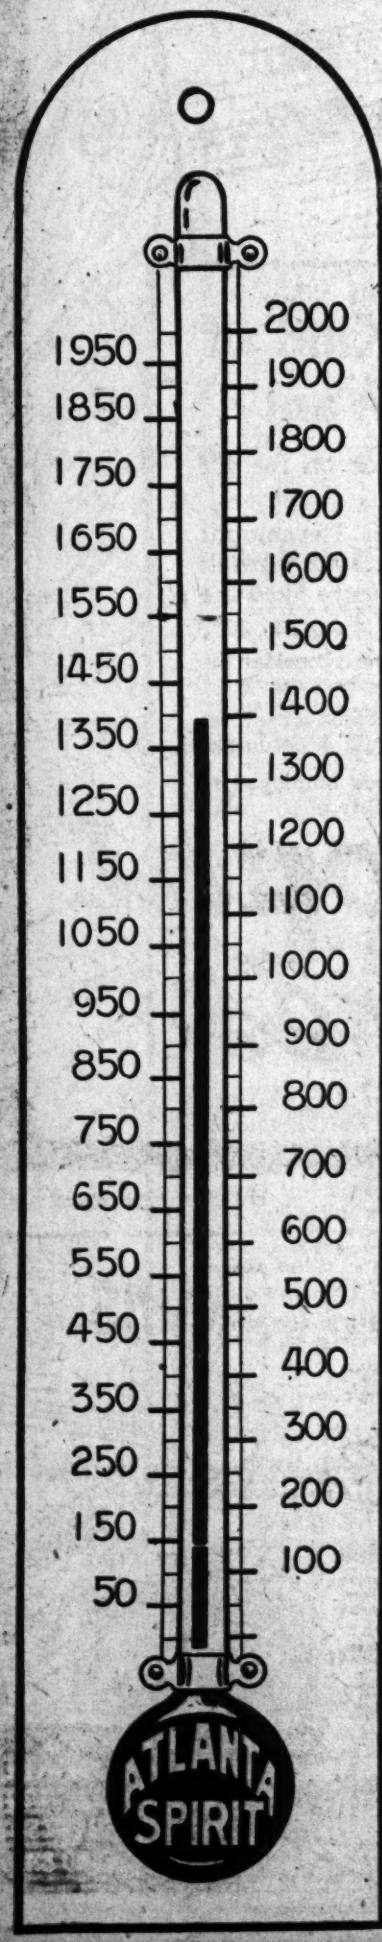

The Fashion Show is New York's, America's, best. It tells much then of the success that Miss Price's creations have met with in the metropolis.

Owing to the connection that exists between the Estelle Mershon Shop and our store, we have the exclusive sale of its styles in Atlanta.

Can't Do the Work

A bad back makes hard work harder. All day the dull throbs and the sharp, darting pains make you miserable, and there's no rest at night. Maybe it's your daily work that hurts the kidneys, for jarring, jolting, lifting, reaching, stooping, and many other strains do weaken them.

Cure the kidneys. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. They have helped thousands and should do as well for you.

An Atlanta Example

John C. Morrison, 410 Simpson St., says: "I suffered from pain across my back and it got so bad that I couldn't work. The kidney secretions were scant and burned in passage, and I had severe headaches. Finally, I took Doan's Kidney Pills at Sharp's Drug Store and they helped me right away. The kidney secretions soon were natural and the backache left me."

MR. CRUMBLY ACCEPTS GOOD POSITION AFTER COMPLETING AT DRAUGHON'S

The following is an extract from a complimentary letter which the college has just received from Mr. W. C. Crumley:

"While I spent only six months in mastering your course of bookkeeping and shorthand, I have been able to execute any duties assigned me as stenographer for the Texas Oil company. I certainly would advise any young person seeking a business education to take the Draughon training."

"Your courses are thorough and practical, and your teachers are courteous, conscientious and expert instructors. I am sure that anyone who completes your course of bookkeeping and shorthand will have no trouble in securing a good position. The college secured two positions for me in less than a month's time, the second one giving me quite an increase in salary."

I was induced to enter your college by my brother, who is one of your former graduates, and who is now assistant manager of the advertising department of Swift Specific company, where there are two other Draughon graduates employed."

Thoroughness has been the paramount feature of the Draughon training for more than a quarter of a century; in fact, it is the very foundation upon which rests the enviable reputation of the great chain of the fifty-two Draughon colleges.

Success does not come to those who wait, but is attained only by those who have the courage and ambition to succeed. Don't delay the important matter of securing a business training. That

MAYOR OF SAVANNAH AND FELDER CONFER

Atlanta Man Explains Prohibition Position on Proposal to Shorten Pierpont's Term.

Mayor Wallace J. Pierpont, of Savannah, who has declared that after May 1 Savannah is going "dry" in spite of himself, was in Atlanta yesterday and while here conferred with Colonel Thomas H. Felder, prominent member of the central prohibition committee of Atlanta, which engineered the prohibition bills in the extra session and which is backing Governor Harris to succeed himself in the governor's chair.

Mayor Pierpont reiterated his statement that Savannah is going to be "dry."

He also talked of the bill which, it has been stated, the Chatham delegation proposed to introduce in the next session of the general assembly to reduce the term of mayor in Savannah to two years, which is the term fixed before a recent local bill was passed by the assembly making the term in Savannah four years. While it is usually the custom in the general assembly, where a local bill is backed by a solid local delegation, to pass such a bill out of courtesy, it is reported that the prohibition forces which passed the new prohibition laws, will back a movement to defeat this effort to reduce the term of office of Mayor Pierpont.

Mayor Pierpont admitted that the present political situation with respect to Savannah has arisen out of his desire to enforce the prohibition laws. Mr.

Pierpont came into office through the demise of his predecessor, who was not in favor of prohibition. Mr. Pierpont proposed to enforce the law. Hence he says, the movement to shorten his tenure of office.

This is also coupled, he said, with a move in favor of a certain candidate for city attorney, who was aligned with the former mayor.

Mr. Pierpont said that his mission to Atlanta is upon private business, but that while here he talked with Atlantians upon the prohibition situation in Savannah.

Colonel Felder stated last night that he saw Mayor Pierpont here Wednesday, and the mayor discussed briefly the Savannah situation with him, but principally the discussion was about putting the lid on light in Savannah. As to his own and the prohibition party's position in respect to the Savannah situation, Colonel Felder said: "My position is this: If the Chatham county delegation proposes to terminate Pierpont's term of office by the introduction of a charter amendment as punishment of him for the enforcement of the prohibition laws, I don't believe this legislature will stand for it. But if the prohibition question is not involved, and it is simply a matter of local politics, as is insisted by many members of the assembly, the general assembly will follow the established precedent of passing any local legislation on which the local delegation is united."

DANIEL SHIRLEY BETTER; IVEY HAS SURRENDERED

Alto, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—Young Watson Ivey, who shot Daniel Shirley in the Alto depot on Sunday night, surrendered to the sheriff of Banks county yesterday.

Shirley was taken to Dawkins' hospital at Gainesville, early Monday morning and this morning was reported slightly better, though doctors hold out slight hope of his recovery. One bullet entered his chest and came out low down in his back, he was also shot through the hand.

Ivey's version of the affair is that Shirley had threatened him with a knife during Sunday evening and that he had avoided him, but when he went to the station where he was in conversation with the operator. On leaving the depot, he was followed by Shirley, who pulled a knife and threatened him. Ivey then pulled his gun and fired four shots before Shirley would release his hold.

G. H. HOWARD TO OPPOSE JUDGE PRICE GILBERT

Announces He Will Make Race for Judge of Chatham Circuit.

Columbus, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—Gus H. Howard, prominent attorney, and manager for F. W. Hardwick in his campaign for the United States senate, in a signed statement today announced for the judgeship of the Chatham circuit of the superior court, subject to the primary, during the coming summer.

Mr. Howard, in making his announcement, stated that he would place his formal announcement in the newspapers of the circuit, following a business trip of several weeks, and at that time he would start an active campaign for the judgeship.

The present judge of the circuit is Price Gilbert, and he has already announced that he will be a candidate for re-election.

Solicitor George C. Palmer, of the Chatham circuit, also has opposition in the person of C. Frank McLaughlin, who is already active in his campaign.

SPENDERS ARE PUT ON ANXIOUS BENCH BY JUDGE'S RULING

If reckless spending is sufficient evidence of insanity, as a jury in the ordinary court has decreed, habits of the gay white way had better be careful that there are no gum-shoe alienists on their trail.

In the case of Leon Young Pope, a youth of 23, the jury decided that he was insane because he was unable to handle money. He was adjudged of unsound mind in 1911 and sent to Millidgeville.

He was later released in the custody of W. T. Eason, appointed guardian. Then he fell heir to the estate of his mother, valued at $11,000. He applied for a court order declaring him sane. It was testified before the ordinary, however, that his penchant for spending remained and that he could not care for the heritage of $11,000.

SIBLEY MAKES REPLY TO HURT'S STATEMENT

John W. Sibley, secretary and treasurer of the Southern Paving Brick Manufacturers' association, with headquarters at Birmingham, has taken exception to the recent report of Nym Hurt, chief of commerce, who was quoted in The Constitution in regard to the life of brick paving. That portion of the report which dealt with this kind of pavement was to the effect that with a vitrified brick pavement laid under modern conditions the life is twelve years.

Mr. Sibley, in a letter to Mr. Hurt, a copy of which has been received by The Constitution, declares that vitrified brick pavements are vastly more durable than the report would indicate. He calls attention to the fact that South Forsyth street was paved with vitrified brick twenty years ago and on the east side of the street north of Garrett street, the original pavement has not been disturbed since its original construction. Mr. Sibley declares that it is in practically as good a condition as when first laid. Mr. Sibley cites other pavements in Atlanta and elsewhere in substantiation of his statements.

HIRSCH FUNERAL HELD AT HOME WEDNESDAY

The funeral of Isaac Hirsch, who died Monday night in Boston, following an operation, was held Wednesday from the residence, 265 Washington street, Rabbi Marx officiating. Interment was in Oakland.

The pallbearers were Ralph Rosenbaum, Will Thompson, Jake Hirsch, Joe Fuld, C. G. Giddings, Frank Liebman, S. B. Brown, Will Montag, Gus Hoffman and Hugo Spitz. The honorary escort was composed of J. D. Cameron, F. Schiff, D. Donohue, T. Cantrell, J. Sullivan, Charles Singleton, W. S. Morrison, R. Brooks, F. S. Spencer, F. Morris, D. Seaborn, Ed Dameron, M. Granberry, A. Carlson and M. Brown.

CHARGED BANKRUPT CONCEALED HIS ASSETS

Thomasville, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—After having been tried and found guilty in the bankruptcy proceedings against him, L. Frostweg, a merchant of Meigs, in this county, is being charged with having about $18,400 of stock in Pelham, which, it is alleged, was taken there before the proceedings against him. This claim is made by some of the attorneys in the case and they have requested the judge to issue a rule to Frostweg to produce the stock. It is said that the goods were carried to Pelham by Frostweg's original partner, over to his father-in-law, a merchant there. The hearing of the case will be held at Meigs on January 19, before Judge McCrackin, referee in bankruptcy.

STAMPS BEING MAILED UNDER EMERGENCY ACT

From the office of the collector of internal revenue stamps for use under the provisions of the emergency act are being mailed. An unusually heavy amount of business in this office has resulted in some delay in getting out the supplies of the stamps and a number of inquiries have been received as to the reason for the delay.

The stamps are being sent to bankers, theatrical men, tobacco dealers and manufacturers and others who must pay special taxes as required by the emergency bill.

RAILROAD OFFICIALS GUESTS OF FITZGERALD

Fitzgerald, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—Nearly all the general officers of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad are in the city today on a semi-annual inspection trip. A number of officials of the G. S. & A. and the Ocella Southern are also in town and the citizens of the city entertained them this afternoon with an auto ride through the country and tonight gave them a banquet at the Lee Grant hotel.

The South Georgia Poultry association is holding its first show here, commencing today and continuing three days. Five hundred entries are in position now and more are to be placed tomorrow.

J. F. HOWARD ANNOUNCES FOR ORDINARY IN PIKE

Barnesville, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—The race for county officers in Pike is already beginning to arouse interest, as there are several candidates already running. It is probable that an early primary will be held for nominating all the county officers.

Captain John F. Howard, of this city, has announced that he will be a candidate for ordinary. J. W. Means, who has for many years filled the office, will not offer again on account of his advanced age. Captain Howard is the present county treasurer, whose office has been abolished. It is believed he will hardly have opposition.

ASK YOUR DOCTOR

If constipation is not a serious, morbid condition that dulls the mental processes and shortens life. If the mechanical lubrication of the walls of the intestine is not the rational treatment for restoring normal bowel activity. Modern medical science answers yes to both these questions. Eminent specialists both in this country and abroad have found the mineral oil treatment for constipation remarkably effective as a substitute for habit-forming laxatives and cathartics.

Nujol, a pure white mineral oil, colorless, odorless, tasteless, lubricates the entire intestinal canal, softens its contents and thus makes it easy for the weakened out-of-condition bowel to perform.

Performance means a gain of strength—a return to normal—and less need of any artificial aid. In other words Nujol brings permanent relief from constipation.

If you are unable to get Nujol from your druggist, we will send a pint bottle prepaid to any point in the United States for 75c—money order or stamps.

Giving You the Kind of Pictures You Want

Paramount Pictures are not made on the hit and miss plan.

Every time a theatre shows a Paramount Picture, the manager fills out a criticism blank and marks thereon how his audience liked the picture.

These blanks tell us whether his patrons consider the picture fair, medium, good, excellent or poor.

From thousands of theatres these criticisms come to us daily and our future program is built accordingly.

This is but one of the methods employed to maintain the high quality of

Paramount Pictures

The most complete motion picture statistics in this industry are on file at the Paramount offices to govern our every move.

As a writer in one of the magazines said—"It is our method of 'Feeling The Film Public's Pulse.'"

So when you see a Paramount Picture we especially request you to express your approval or disapproval of it to the theatre manager.

He wants to show you and we want to give you just the kind of photoplays you desire, and your personal opinion of his pictures will help him to do this.

If Paramount Pictures are not shown in your town ask your favorite theatre to get them.

MRS. PORTER HAD TO LIVE ON RAW EGGS, MILK AND BREAD

"Tanlac Has Given Me New Life," She Declares—Is Now Able to Eat Meats or Anything Else She Wants.

"Honestly, life was not worth living until I got hold of this Tanlac," said Mrs. G. A. Porter, who lives at 1099 Marietta street, to Dr. E. B. Elder, the Tanlac representative, who had called at her home to investigate the report that she had received great benefits from the use of this medicine.

Mrs. Porter's husband and mother were pre-empted, and added much to her most unusual statement. "Yes," said the mother, "it certainly has done wonders for Ethel, for the poor girl was so weak and suffered so much that we thought her time had come."

"I have been in a terrible condition for about four years," resumed Mrs. Porter, "and for a long time I couldn't eat anything but a little stale bread, boiled milk and raw eggs. I was in bed nearly all the time and had lost strength and weight and endured so much pain that I felt like giving up."

"It was a severe, persistent case of nervous indigestion that was troubling me down all the time and that nothing would relieve. I suffered pains in the stomach, splitting headaches, heartburn and nausea all the time. I was so nervous I couldn't sleep, and I felt tired and worn out all the time. I simply could not digest anything, and I was continually constipated. I couldn't even try to lift my hand to any housework, for I was little use to myself or anybody else."

"The testimonials of some of my friends got me to thinking about Tanlac. I had never paid much attention to testimonials in the papers, but since this medicine has done so much for me I read every one of them, for I have found that they are genuine and speak the truth."

"I have taken three bottles of Tanlac now and the least I can say is that it has actually given me new life. My digestion is perfect. I eat meat or anything else I want and I sleep like a baby. It has done me more good than I ever expected or dreamed it would, and I am now a happy woman, for this good medicine has restored me to my former good health. I am a good deal heavier, too, and weigh as much now as I did four years ago."

"She's told it exactly like it is," put in Mr. Porter, "and the only thing she left out was the increased size of the grocery bill. She's making up for lost time."

GENUINE TANLAC is sold in Atlanta exclusively by the Jacobs Pharmacy Company, the only authorized retail distributors for Atlanta.—(adv.)

PAID FOR BARTENDERS IS SOUGHT IN APPEAL

Atlanta Federation of Trades Opposes Change in Present Pension System.

In an appeal directed to all citizens of Atlanta, the Atlanta Federation of Trades asks that efforts be made by the people of this city in behalf of the 300 men who will be thrown out of employment the first of May as a result of the enforcement of the new prohibition laws.

The appeal is made in behalf of the members of the Bartenders' union, which is affiliated with the central organization. Copies of the appeal will be sent to the secretaries of the various local civic organizations for presentation to their members.

Vigorous opposition was expressed at Wednesday night's meeting of the Federation of Trades to any change in the present pension laws of the city for city employees. The legislative committee was instructed to appear before the finance committee of council or any other body of the municipality in opposition to a change in the pension system.

Officers were installed at Wednesday night's meeting of the Federation, Jerome Jones appearing as the representative of the American Federation of Labor, conducting the installation exercises. Those installed were: G. P. Bell, president; J. S. Tiller, V. Brooks, E. L. Ficken and W. E. Fleming, vice presidents; J. R. New, recording secretary; Carl Karston, financial secretary; J. M. Shearer, H. A. Cochran and N. H. Kirkpatrick, finance committee; Dan Pappa, sergeant-at-arms.

GEORGIANS PRESENTED FOR SUPREME COURT

Hoke Smith Speaks for King, Cobb and Holden—Wilson Has Reached No Decision.

By John Corrigan, Jr. Washington, January 12.—(Special.) President Wilson told callers today, among them being Senator Hoke Smith, of Georgia, that he had not definitely made up his mind whom he will nominate for the supreme court vacancy.

Senator Smith presented the endorsements of Alexander C. King, of Atlanta; Judge Andrew J. Cobb, of Athens, and Judge Horace M. Holden, of the last two having served on Georgia's highest court, and informed all of them as being admirably equipped for the position. The fact that Georgia is now represented on the interstate commerce commission and the federal trade commission, the most powerful federal boards at the capital, and that the state had a representative on the supreme court up to the death of Justice Lamar, will militate, it is believed, against the chances of any Georgia lawyer to be chosen for the supreme court vacancy.

Judson C. Clements and William J. Harris are both charged to Georgia. Mr. Harris at the first mention of Mr. King's name, however, indorsed him in a personal interview with the president.

Representative Tribble, of Georgia, today urged the appointment of Judge Cobb or Judge Holden.

Other distinguished lawyers being pressed for appointment are: Judge Henry D. Clayton, of Alabama; Judge J. M. Henton, of Kentucky, and Judge W. W. Graves, of Missouri.

COLANGELO'S MUSICAL PARTY ARRIVES TODAY

Colangelo's Musicians, including an Italian band, orchestra and vocalists, will arrive in Atlanta this afternoon from Jacksonville, Fla., and will appear in concert at the Auditorium this evening as the seventh number on the Alhambra Lyceum course this season.

The company has been filling engagements down the east coast of Florida the past week, where they have had remarkable success. In fact, their tour of the state since they left Boston last October has been one unbroken success.

Mr. Weaver has guaranteed to have the Auditorium comfortably heated for the performance this evening, so no one need stay away on account of the cold wave. The performance will begin promptly at 8:15 o'clock, since it is a long one, and all the lyceum patrons are requested to be in their seats by this hour. The admission price to those who do not hold season tickets will be 50 cents to 100 cents, at the Auditorium. Tickets are on sale at the Alhambra office in the Healey building, or at the door of the Auditorium tonight.

Atlanta Trust Company Selects Its Officers; Everitt Now Secretary

Arnold Broyles, clerk of the Fulton county superior court, was elected a trustee of the Atlanta Trust company Wednesday, with Hamilton Douglas, Jr., Charles B. Lewis and W. P. Wallace. Mr. Douglas is a member of the law firm of Douglas & Douglas, and is in the president of several banks in the state.

Those who were re-elected are Frank S. Etheridge, president of the company, who is also president of the Georgia Bankers' association; James S. Floyd, vice president of the Atlanta National bank; S. N. Evans, of Evans & Moore, attorneys; Robert L. Foreman, state agent of the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance company; Alex. C. King, of King & Spalding, attorneys; M. C. King, cotton oil broker; George S. Lowndes, vice president of the company, and John Morris, of the Keely Co.

Immediately after the meeting of the stockholders, the trustees met and elected officers for the ensuing year. They are Frank S. Etheridge, president; George S. Lowndes, vice president; Turner C. Tripp, treasurer; Charles F. Everitt, secretary, and J. J. Spalding, counsel. All the officers are old men with the exception of Mr. Everitt, the secretary. Mr. Everitt came to Atlanta from New York City. He was formerly connected with the Bankers' Trust company, of that city.

He has had long experience in the administration of personal and corporate trusts in the trust department of that company. The trustees will maintain the Atlanta Trust company financially as a fiduciary institution. It will not enter actively in the field of commercial banking, but will do a general banking business and offer to individuals complete services with the respect to the investment of funds and other financial matters.

WILKINSON SPEAKS TO AD MEN TODAY: "STUNTS" MAN BUSY

Mell R. Wilkinson, recently retiring president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, will be the honor guest and speaker at the regular luncheon and meeting of the Atlanta Ad Men's club today at 1 o'clock at the Ansley hotel. Mr. Wilkinson is one of Atlanta's best known citizens and is a powerful and magnetic speaker. He has not chosen a definite subject, but will deal with matters of vital interest to all citizens.

An entertaining program of lively songs is being arranged by the Ad club quartet and the stunts man promises some original events.

The officers and board of directors of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce are expected to be present at the gathering, as well as other prominent men. An unusually large number of acceptance cards have been returned to the secretary and indications are that this will be a record breaking meeting.

ATTENDS GRANITE BANK DIRECTORS' MEETING

Leon R. Greer, office deputy in the Federal building under Marshal Howard Thompson, returned from Stone Mountain Wednesday where he had attended an enthusiastic meeting of the directors of the Granite bank, at which J. M. Floyd, of Redan, was added to the directorate. The officers re-elected are: J. S. McCurdy, president; V. R. Williams, vice president; and J. R. Irvin, cashier. The directors are: Mr. McCurdy, W. D. Mattox, Mr. Williams, W. A. Wooda, D. F. Smith, C. J. Britt, H. Venable, John S. Candler, M. M. George, W. T. McCurdy and W. E. Tuggle, Jr.

Floyd took the place of W. M. Martin, who moved away. The capital stock is $15,000 and the undivided profits $12,132.38, which is $27,132.38. The directors passed their dividend of about 20 per cent because they wanted to add substantially to the undivided profits.

ITCHING ECZEMA IS A CONSTANT BLOOD CRY

The Blood Reaches Every Part of the Body Every Twelve Seconds.

There are approximately 70,000,000 pores or openings in the skin of a human body. These connect with the blood channels by means of little canals. These canals are sometimes filled with poisons, and thus the skin scales and blisters, becomes red and raw and the skin of man is like so much tissue fire. Salves and lotions, plasters, etc., do not reach the source of the trouble. To make the blood pure you must assist nature in the way she wants to be helped. S. S. S. is the greatest blood purifier because it is a natural one. There is not a mineral of any sort in it. It is purely vegetable in every essence. The blood welcomes S. S. S. and it quickly reaches the seat of the trouble. So great is the fame of this blood remedy that many substitutes trail along in various sections of the country. They all, sooner or later, die a natural death. S. S. S. builds-up weak and acid blood, gives prompt relief to almost every case of eczema, winter letter and other troublesome skin maladies. You owe yourself the duty of trying a bottle of S. S. S. Take no substitute. Write for our free book on skin diseases. SEABOARD PRESIDENT
VISITOR TO ATLANTA

President Harahan Comes to This City in His Private Car.

Arriving here in his special car, the Portsmouth, President W. J. Harahan, of the Seaboard Air Line Railway company, spent yesterday studying local conditions as they pertain to his system. He will remain in Atlanta until tonight, when he will leave for Norfolk.

Mr. Harahan is visiting a number of southern cities which are touched by the lines of the Seaboard with a view of getting in close touch with the affairs of the system which he heads. He has conferred with a number of the local officials of the Seaboard during the time that he has been here.

The Seaboard president came to Atlanta from Birmingham, where he spent a few days on a mission similar to that which brought him to this city. He finds conditions greatly improved and appears to be very much pleased with the outlook for a prosperous year during 1916.

Mr. Harahan's car is parked on the yards of the Union station, where it will remain until his departure Thursday evening. He will spend a busy day Thursday familiarizing himself with departments of the system which he was unable to give his attention Wednesday.

The president of the Seaboard makes frequent visits to Atlanta and other points in the south and southeast, regarded by the railroad as important commercial centers. It is his policy to meet the men at the head of the various departments personally and discuss with them matters affecting the Seaboard Air Line.

FUNERAL OF T. B. IRWIN
TAKES PLACE TOMORROW

Marietta, Ga., January 12.—(Special.) The funeral of Colonel Thomas B. Irwin, youngest son of the late Judge David Irwin, who died this morning at 10 o'clock, will be held Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the residence, three miles from here, on the Powder Springs road.

Colonel Irwin was born in 1846, was admitted to the bar in 1869, and married Miss Lilla C. Atkinson, of Marietta, daughter of the late Colonel A. S. Atkinson, in 1870. He had practiced law continuously in Marietta. Surviving him are his wife, a daughter, Miss Mary A. Irwin; three sons, D. A. Irwin, of Buford; A. A. Irwin, of Marietta; and George B. Irwin, of Fort Collins, Colo.; and a brother, Colonel R. C. Irwin, of Marietta. He was a brother-in-law of Spencer R. and Sam C. Atkinson, of Atlanta.

Who Has Home to Offer Pretty Girl or Sturdy Lad?
Twelve Children Are Going to the Highest Bidders

Mrs. A. E. Davis, a modern "Mother Goose," and the twelve little children for whom she has provided a home at her residence near the federal prison. These children were collected by the Georgia Children's Home Finding association, which is anxious to place them in good homes where they will be properly cared for.

Twelve unfortunate children, taken from the most distressing environments, will soon be disposed of to people in Atlanta and other cities, who are able to provide for them properly.

At present they are under the care of Mrs. A. E. Davis, a modern "Mother Goose." She is sheltering them for the Georgia Home Finding society in her little cottage near the federal prison. For days she has been feeding, clothing, bathing and taking care of them, just as children should be cared for, but the time has come when they must have permanent homes.

In the background of this picture there is a lad of eleven, who is holding an Ingersoll watch in his hands. He is Charlie Barber, the oldest of the twelve.

He had helped steal an automobile downtown, and, in broad daylight, had made a daring get-away to Athens. He was duly penitent, and the authorities saw that his wasn't a case for a reformatory. So they sent him to "Grandma" Davis. And the watch, which Santa Claus brought him, filled him with more pride of possession than the automobile.

The bright-eyed and laughing girl in the picture is Mamie, who came from somewhere in the mountains, where a district judge took her from a mother who was unable to care for her properly.

She has the prettiest blue eyes. Her hair seems to have caught and held the sunshine. Do you want a little fairy in your home? Ben and Charlie and Henrietta, who are standing, were taken by the association from a rude hut in the far interior of Gilmer county, where a destitute mother provided often less than a meal and a half a day, and a load of straw on the bare flooring for their bed.

There were four of them when the association found them, but the fourth, a weakling, died from the effects of prolonged want and neglect. The three little survivors kept for days over her death; they could hardly realize she was gone, never to return.

Taken From Mill District. William and Ada and Pearl were taken from the slums of a south Georgia cotton mill district, all of them orphans, having been cared for in homes of the mill settlement, where they had been sheltered from the cold and rain than willingly, until officers of the association took them into custody. Another boy, Ben, doesn't know his age nor the name of his father or his mother. They didn't treat him right, and never fed him enough. It is claimed he was brought from the rural regions of northeast Georgia.

Another boy is known as "R. B." He

RAILROAD MEN
WILL COME HERE
FOR CONFERENCE

A conference of considerable interest in southern railroad circles will be that to be conducted at this city Saturday when General Passenger Agent George D. Hunter, of Dallas, will spend the day here on business pertaining to the Texas and Pacific railroad. It is probable that Mr. Hunter will be accompanied to Atlanta by other officials.

Local railroad men Wednesday were much interested in the arrival at Atlanta of W. E. Murray, traveling passenger agent of the Big 4, who has transferred his headquarters to Atlanta from Knoxville, where he has been stationed for the past several years.

Atlanta is given important recognition as a railroad center in the decision of the Missouri Pacific to transfer E. R. Jennings, its western passenger agent, from Chattanooga to this city. Mr. Jennings arrived in Atlanta Wednesday and has taken offices in the Fourth National Bank building. Business visitors to the railroad offices of this city Wednesday included A. B. Hill, the assistant general passenger agent of the Lehigh Valley; J. M. Elliott, general agent of the Seaboard Air Line, with headquarters at Greenwood, S. C.; and Michael E. Malone, general agent of the Canadian Pacific.

Two Children Smothered. Mobile, Ala., January 12.—Elizabeth Howard, aged 5, and Martha Gilmore, aged 4, were smothered to death when caught in a cave-in of sand at Fairhope, Ala., on the eastern shore of Mobile bay today. The children were playing in a gulley when several tons of sand fell in on them. They were extricated after an hour's work, but were dead when taken out.

NOVEL MEETING HELD
BY RAILROAD MEN HERE

All Departments of Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic Represented.

Novel features, new departures and unusual ideas contributed to the success of the meeting at Atlanta of representatives of all departments of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic Railway company, who left yesterday for Fitzgerald after interesting business sessions at this city Tuesday. About 90 representatives of the various departments of the system were in attendance.

With the discussion of plans for the work of the coming year there were heard reports of the activities along various lines during the past twelve months and the meeting was most beneficial.

Every man present was asked for his views as to the part which a railroad should play in the development of the territory traversed by its lines and was requested to make suggestions concerning the improvement of the service of the A. B. & A.

Agricultural experts told of the work which is being done in all sections of the country in an effort to aid farmers, cattle raisers and orchardists, and gave detailed information regarding methods adopted in fighting the boll weevil and solving other problems confronting the agricultural interest. Conductors gave some of their experiences and told their ideas of the manner in which the traveling public should be treated by the men employed in this capacity by the railroad. Engineers gave information as to their work and stressed the importance of co-operation with them on the part of officials of other departments. Mechanics informed the railroad men of the work in the machine shops and traffic men told of the general impression of a railroad as reflected by the remarks of its patrons.

The meeting was presided over by J. L. Edwards, traffic manager, and came to a close with the address of B. L. Bugg, the assistant general manager.

The members of the party left Wednesday for Fitzgerald where Wednesday afternoon they were taken on an automobile ride over Ben Hill county. In the evening they were the guests of honor at a bird supper given by citizens of Fitzgerald at Lee-Grant hotel.

"RENTING GUIDE" PUT IN HANDS OF RECEIVER

"The Atlanta Renting Guide," published by Frank Hammond and S. W. Bacon, Jr., was put in the hands of a receiver yesterday on the application of Mr. Hammond on the charge that Bacon withheld the records and accounts of the publication. Claude B. Neely was named receiver and January 15 set as a date for the hearing.

EVER SALIVATED BY CALOMEL? HORRIBLE!

Calomel is quicksilver and acts like dynamite on your liver.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for 50 cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day. It loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tonic straightens you right up and you feel great. Give your children the best, perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.

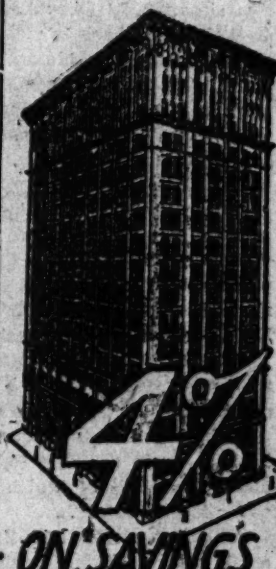

STOPS FALLING HAIR

This Home-Made Mixture Stops Dandruff and Falling Hair and Aids Its Growth.

To a half pint of water add:
Bay Rum 1 oz.
Barbo Compound A small box
Glycerine 1/2 oz.

These are all simple ingredients that you can buy from any druggist at very little cost, and mix them yourself. Apply to the scalp once a day for two weeks, then once every other week until all the mixture is used. A half pint should be enough to rid the head of dandruff and kill the dandruff germs. It stops the hair from falling out, and relieves itching and scalp diseases.

Although it is not a dye, it acts upon the hair roots and will darken streaked, faded, gray hair in ten or fifteen days. It promotes the growth of the hair and makes harsh hair soft and glossy.

"Coffee Don't Hurt Me"

Can he get away with it?

The drug, caffeine, in coffee, about 2½ grains to the average cup, hurts many coffee drinkers, at some time of life, and often hurts them hard.

Caffeine is a powerful irritant that unsteadies the nerves, races the heart, disorganizes the digestive organs and plays havoc with the health of a large proportion of coffee users.

Of course, there are some who go on drinking coffee for years, without apparent harm, at least they don't suspect it, until the cumulative drug, caffeine, has got in its work. Isn't it the best plan to play safe with health—quit coffee and use

Attendance Continues Large at Cooking School

Meats and Vegetables Furnished Interesting Theme for Mrs. Wilson on Wednesday

Her Work for Today Will Include Salad Combinations, Bread and Rolls and Decorative Specialties.

The same usually large crowd was present when Mrs. Betty Wilson opened her third afternoon session, on Wednesday, of The Constitution's free cooking school.

Interest has not abated a whit, and every woman came prepared Wednesday to jot down and take home with her all the information gained from her attendance at the school.

Meats and vegetables were featured, with still other attractive decorative work.

Today Mrs. Wilson will feature salad combinations, bread and rolls, and other decorative specialties. The following were recipes given out Wednesday:

Beef Roast.
Wipe a three-pound roast beef with damp cloth. Do not wash; water draws out the juices. Dredge with flour. Put in pan with a little butter on top of stove and sear on all sides. Place inside of oven and cook until done, allowing twelve minutes to pound. Season with salt and pepper and a few pieces of bacon in one corner of pan. Baste often. Serve with Irish potato strips around roast, which can be cooked in oven with roast.

Creole Chicken.
1 chicken.
1 onion.
1 can tomatoes.
1 can mushrooms.
1 pepper.
Seasonings.
Boil one hen until tender, then tear to pieces.
Sauce for chicken. Cut one onion into small pieces, and fry in butter until yellow—using spider. Cut into this one green pepper, one can tomatoes, one can of mushrooms, salt and pepper to taste. One tablespoon sugar. One teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Cook this mixture until thoroughly done, then add chicken, cover and let cook until well seasoned.

Cauliflower and Cheese.
One cauliflower, one-half pound grated cheese, one-half teaspoon red pepper, one cup cream sauce, one tablespoon butter.

Boil cauliflower; when cold cut in pieces. Put in sauce, add butter, cheese and pepper. Pour over this cream sauce, add buttered bread crumbs and bake ten minutes.

Old-Time Potato Salad.
Potato salad: Cut into balls with potato baller six Irish potatoes; cut into small pieces the portion left after cutting balls; add one chopped onion, one stalk of celery, six slices of bacon cooked crisp and broken fine; mix all ingredients together and add boiled dressing to taste; garnish with potato balls rolled in chopped parsley.

Macaroni and Cheese.
One-half of a 5-cent package of macaroni; put on in boiling salt water; boil until tender; then pour off water and blanch in cold water. Beat three eggs well, with a teaspoon of butter, pinch of salt, dash of cayenne pepper; add one pint of milk, then a cup of grated cheese; last, add macaroni and bake until firm.

Asparagus Loaf.
Two tablespoons butter; two tablespoons flour; four eggs; one scant tablespoon gelatin; juice of one lemon; one can asparagus; one pint whipped cream; salt, paprika and pepper to taste. Heat butter in double boiler and strain flour (to which has been added water) into butter, stirring constantly until it becomes thick. Beat eggs well and pour over them the butter mixture, stirring eggs constantly. Put again into double boiler, cook until eggs are done, stirring until ready to be taken from fire. Add dissolved gelatin, lemon juice and seasoning. When cool add four kitchen spoonfuls of whipped cream. Line loaf pan with asparagus tips and pour in the custard, putting layer of asparagus on top. Set on ice to congeal and serve with whipped cream mayonnaise to which has been added a small quantity of lemon juice.

D. N. HORNE, OF ASHBURN, PASSES AWAY SUDDENLY

Ashburn, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—The people of Ashburn and Turner county were shocked this morning to learn of the sudden death of D. N. Horne. Mr. Horne was seemingly in good health until 10 o'clock last night. Just before retiring he called to his wife and told her he was sick, and before she could summon a physician he had lost consciousness and died four hours later. His death is said to have been due to apoplexy.

Mr. Horne was well known in business circles of north Georgia, having come from North Carolina as a young man and engaged in the naval stores business for a number of years. Funeral exercises and interment will take place at the family burying ground, five miles southwest ofifton, tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Rhoden, of Moultrie, will officiate.

MERCHANTS ASSAIL PARKING PRIVILEGE

Recorder and City Attorney Will Hold Conference Before Ruling on Case.

A conference between City Attorney James L. Mayson and Recorder George E. Johnson probably some time today will decide whether or not an automobilist has the right to refuse to move his machine from in front of a store in disregard of the wishes of the store management.

That much was decided by the recorder following the trial of R. Q. Fortune in police court Wednesday morning, charged with refusing to move his parked automobile from in front of the Cable Piano company's store on North Broad street.

The case was made by the management of the store, but Recorder Johnson refused to render a decision until he and the city attorney can discuss the question.

According to Attorney Mayson, who was interviewed on the subject by a Constitution reporter Wednesday night, there is no direct bearing on such a case in any of the city ordinances, although it is a violation of the law for any one to block the entrance to another's property.

A great number of downtown business houses are awaiting with interest the result of the conference between the two city officials, as there are complaints of the parking of automobiles on several downtown streets.

The traffic ordinance which prohibits parking of machines on some of the principal streets has forced automobilists to go to adjacent streets to leave their cars, and the merchants of those adjacent streets complain of the great number of automobiles in front of their stores, holding that the entrance to their places from the street is in some cases completely blocked by the cars.

A meeting was held by merchants the first of this week to formulate a protest against the parking.

WOMEN TO AID LAYMEN CONVENTION CAMPAIGN

Co-operation Promised by Women's Auxiliaries, When Committee Asks Aid.

Through the women's auxiliary societies of several of the largest denominations material aid will be given to the registration campaign of the Laymen's Missionary convention, which meets in Atlanta February 2 to 4. This was assured Wednesday from the answers received from officers of the women's auxiliaries in response to a general letter addressed to them by the executive committee of the Atlanta convention through the executive secretary, James Morton.

State-wide co-operation will be given by at least three of the women's organizations—the Presbyterian, Methodist and Baptist. Other women's societies of local organizations will aid in the Atlanta campaign. While the women will not be registered as delegates to the convention—which is strictly a men's movement—the women will encourage and aid in the registration of the men, disseminate information about the convention and otherwise assist the men's committees in many details of the convention work.

FARMERS OF DECATUR PLAN PACKING PLANT

Bainbridge, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—John W. Greer, secretary of the Brooks Engineering company, the concern that built the Moultrie Packing plant, will be in Bainbridge Saturday and address the mass meeting of farmers that has been called for that day. Several local parties have been interested in a plan to establish a packing plant in Bainbridge and an organization may be launched at the meeting Saturday.

Who Calls Today?

Who Wants to Learn?

Our own demonstrators are ready every week-day in the year to help you get from your gas range the most efficient service; to help you win from your cooking the best result.

Telephone Main 4945 or Atlanta 252 and ask for the Gas Range Demonstrators. One will visit you at home and explain how to light the range, how to avoid waste of gas, how to keep your range clean and efficient, how and where adjustment may be needed, and how to cook—how to bake, broil, roast, boil!—in short, how to maintain and use your gas range.

Plan a gathering of your neighbors at home, and let a demonstrator give her whole day, if necessary, to answering questions.

This costs you nothing. Inasmuch as thus we may increase your satisfaction with your gas range, we esteem the opportunity to serve.

Our new 1916 models are here--

The forerunners of our whole new line of Ranges for the year just beginning have arrived and are now to be seen, for the first time, in our display rooms at 75 Marietta street.

The 1916 Ranges show many improvements over those of last year. White porcelain enamel finish is used generously, and castings are improved—all making for a cleaner and more attractive range. Several types are here. Prices are from $10 to $35, with terms. We invite you cordially to call and see them.

Mrs. Wilson and Her Assistants Ready for Work In Her Model Kitchen at Taft Hall Cooking School

"Economy by Using Only the Best," One of Mrs. Wilson's Maxims--Some of the Products She Uses and Some of the Displays at the Cooking School.

Above is shown "the first lady of the kitchen," the south's genius cook, Mrs. Betty Lyles Wilson, of Nashville, Tenn., as she stood on the platform at Taft hall just before beginning her lecture and demonstrations on Wednesday in The Constitution's free cooking school.

Near her stands her understudy--a charming young lady--Miss Betty Ray Tillett--who has for years been carefully trained in the culinary art by Mrs. Wilson and who is busy every moment of the cooking session preparing the dishes, keeping in unison with the explanations given by Mrs. Wilson, and almost by the time the great teacher has finished her treatise on some dish the young lady has it ready to serve to the audience.

The others on the stage are the colored maids who assist Mrs. Wilson in her work, one of them traveling regularly with her. The scene is that of a model kitchen. Two of the latest gas stoves, furnished by the Atlanta Gas company, are used in Mrs. Wilson's demonstrations. "I find them ready and convenient for every emergency--clean and economical," she said.

McCray Refrigerators.

On the stage is shown one of the latest McCray sanitary refrigerators. "These are built on correct principles of scientific refrigeration," said the lecturer, "and as they always provide safety from faint and economy, I always try to get them in my demonstrations and can certainly recommend them."

"Old Miss" Cabinet. The kitchen cabinet, which has been secured from the Bauknight Furniture company, is most convenient, but beginning with today the company will install an "Old Miss" cabinet, which is handled by the local company. Mrs. Wilson has used these cabinets frequently. She declares them not only a luxury, but an economy. She will show some of the many good points of this cabinet today, and in addition the Bauknight company will have some of the models on display.

Nothing But the Best. Mrs. Wilson's lectures for the past three days have been filled to overflowing with practical and commonsense advice to the thousands of Atlanta housewives who have been in attendance. She declares that the wonderful results she has gotten this week in various delicious dishes are quite largely due to the excellence of the goods used. This "wonder cook" has for one of her kitchen maxims "economy by using nothing but the best," and this she follows religiously herself both from the lecture platform and in her own home kitchen. Good food rightly prepared is the foundation of health, and vigorous, healthy citizens are the backbone of the nation, so thinks Mrs. Wilson, and surely this royal cook, this wise and lovely woman ought to know after twenty-five years' experience with that dispenser of human strength and joy--the cook stove.

Royal Says Mrs. Wilson. Mrs. Wilson's marvelous cakes are in a class apart from all others. As the ladies are in the habit of saying, "There are cakes and then there are Mrs. Wilson's cakes; all others in the world cannot touch them." "Because you see," Mrs. Wilson explained from the stage, "I use ingredients that are absolutely right and I use no other." Then she said she wanted to put special stress on baking powder and stated that by baking powder she always meant Royal baking powder. She told the audience that everything used in making this product was pure and wholesome and in consequence the result of the high-class baking powder that was unequaled and unexcelled, as well as absolutely safe for home use.

Ballard's Obelisk Flour. Mrs. Wilson has told her audience that she wants to put a special stress on the flour and wished to advise housewives to look carefully into this question. She is using Obelisk flour, made by Ballard & Ballard, of Louisville, Ky., and sold in Atlanta by many first-class grocers. Mrs. Wilson has tested Obelisk thoroughly in her home as well as for her public lectures and she gives it her complete approval. The booth at the cooking school, managed by Miss Eva Orr, who takes pleasure in handing out literature and souvenirs for this popular flour.

Borden's Evaporated Milk. One ingredient Mrs. Wilson is emphasizing is the milk that goes into the cakes. She told the women that if they would use, as she does, Borden's condensed milk and evaporated cream, results would be more sure. "If you can always have milk and cream that is perfectly clean and pure, why should you risk anything else? I have tested Borden's and I know what I am talking about." Mrs. Wilson explained that she not only made her cakes with Borden's Silver Cow brand evaporated milk, but used it in the dainty, flavoured cream soups and sauces she has demonstrated this week.

A pretty booth is being conducted by Ben F. White, Jr., where many pretty souvenirs are being distributed.

Beuchler's Dairy Farm. In using fresh milk and cream, Mrs. Wilson has been supplied each day with the amount needed from Beuchler's Dairy Farm. This milk is said to have the highest average of any in the city, and Mrs. Wilson has been more than pleased with its richness and freshness.

Fleischmann's Yeast. Of the many dishes made, not one was more enjoyed than the rolls. They were made by Mrs. Wilson's favorite recipe. She used, as she always does, Fleischmann's yeast--in fact, she uses no other and never travels without it. Fleischmann's yeast in Mrs. Wilson's hands always gives sure and very delicious results as the audiences of this week can testify.

Corn Products Refining Co. "Karo and Kingford are the housekeepers' first aids," said Mrs. Wilson in her talks. She told the audience of eager, interested women that goods put out by the Corn Products Refining company were stamped with the seal of purity and of first-class manufacture in every possible way. She says that to help housewives toward better and more healthful housekeeping, it is of vital necessity that they should know first-grade goods and be familiar with the various uses to which such products may be put. Mrs. Wilson feels that no manufacturers of the present day can excel the Corn Products company, and as evidence of the high regard in which she holds their goods, she not only carries them in her repertoire, but she demonstrates daily new and most attractive dishes based on this splendid goods.

Under the management of T. B. Norris, a southern representative, the Corn Products company are maintaining an interesting booth at the cooking school, and in addition to souvenirs, etc., are having the ladies register in order to give them an opportunity to secure a hard-earned prize.

Blue Ribbon Flavors for Cakes. One thing that has especially attracted attention during the week is the flavors to the various delicious desserts, salads and cakes. In reply to much eager questioning Mrs. Wilson told the housewives that she had found just what she wanted in a southern manufacturing firm--the Grover-Lotz company, of Knoxville, Tenn., makers of such superior excellence that Mrs. Wilson has adopted this for exclusive use. Mrs. Wilson says she has thoroughly tested the flavors and finds the goods will uphold the high standard set forth in the name Blue Ribbon.

Blue Label Ketchup. A nice display is being made by the manufacturers of Blue Label Ketchup--Currier Brothers company, of Rochester, N. Y. Mrs. Wilson uses and recommends in highest terms this product. The cook books available at their booth have been eagerly sought for.

Talking Machines. A number of local dealers and manufacturers have pretty displays at the school. One of the most attractive is that of Chamberlain-Johnson-DeBose company, from where comes all the catchy music rendered before and after the lectures. The company is showing its three lines of talking machines--the Sonora, the Victrola and the Columbia Grafonola. They announce a complete line of records and easy terms. Miss Edna Wilkie is in charge of the display and keeps the hall enlivened with good music while Mrs. Wilson is not talking to her audience.

Peck's Perfect Tea. A pretty display which has attracted a number of ladies is that of Peck's Perfect Tea, in which they are featuring their Ceylon-India blend. The booth is under the direction of G. W. Brownlee, merchandise broker, on Wall street, and much literature and pretty souvenirs are being distributed. Today Mrs. Wilson will make a specialty of demonstrating on this particular tea, with which she is perfectly familiar, as it has been the basis of her status for years in her cooking school work. It will be made and served to the ladies and Mrs. Wilson will explain in detail how some most delightful drinks can be made from it.

Tripure Water Company. Under the direction of W. T. Harmon, Atlanta manager of the Tripure Water company, Miss Ruth Breck has been kept busy passing out this excellent water and the ginger ale made by this company. It has been served absolutely free all week to the ladies, and the company has made a large number of friends and patrons by its generosity. The ladies have been delighted with the deliciousness of the Tripure ginger ale.

Snowdrift and Wesson Oil. A place where the ladies have sought during the week has been the booth of the Southern Cotton Oil company, where cook books and other literature has been handed out. J. T. Georgia representative, has been in constant attendance, and has answered many inquiries from the hundreds of ladies who have been interested in the company making Snowdrift and Wesson Oil, which Mrs. Wilson uses exclusively in her cooking, and has recommended so highly. An electrical been more popular than that of the Check-Nut Coffee Co. of Nashville, Houston and Jacksonville. Mrs. Wilson has had many kind words to say about their Maxwell House Coffee, declaring that it was not only her choice for demonstrating, but was used by her in her own home. C. A. Brock, Atlanta agent, has had a large urn in use all week, and has served thousands of cups to the ladies. All of them have pronounced their perfect delight at its delicious and elegant flavor.

New South Bakery. One of the busy places in the school has been the booth of the New South Bakery, under the charge of Mrs. Una

Carter. The company is serving and showing some of its latest products. Butternut bread and Holsum cake. Mrs. Carter has served hundreds and hundreds of them, and the ladies never tire of eating them. Mrs. Wilson recently paid a visit to the New South bakery, with Leroy Rogers, its manager, and a party of visitors, and she was most complimentary in her terms of the sanitary and perfect conditions she found there, as she told her audience in a most interesting way about her trip. The bread and cakes served at the booth have been pronounced most delightful and elegant, and the

A Cordial Invitation

Is extended to every housewife in Atlanta and vicinity to visit The Constitution's FREE COOKING SCHOOL, which is being conducted every afternoon this week, except Saturday, by MRS. BETTY WILSON, noted culinary artist, at TAFT HALL.

Mrs. Wilson is nationally famous as a lecturer and writer on culinary subjects, and is a contributor of note to various food journals. A model kitchen has been fitted up in Taft Hall, and there she gives her practical demonstrations. A number of home manufacturers and dealers have attractive exhibits, and souvenirs and samples are handed out.

At the Monday afternoon session every available inch of space in the hall was filled. So come early. You will be well repaid.

NEGROES TOLD TO MOVE OR FIRES WILL RESULT

U. S. Officials Investigating Threats Made in Clarke, Oglethorpe and Oconee.

Athens, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—Negro land owners and tenants, and white farmers who rent land to negroes have in the past few days been generally warned by unknown parties that if colored families do not move out of an area covered by parts of Clarke, Oglethorpe and Oconee counties in twenty days from yesterday their houses will be burned and other violence done.

All of the parties receiving threatening letters reside in an area of ten or twelve miles from the corner of Clarke, Oglethorpe and Oconee counties, between Athens and Lexington, and around Watkinsonville.

At least six of these threatening letters—none of them signed, several of them evidently written by the same hand, and two signed "we mean business"—has been turned over to the United States federal authorities and postoffice inspectors, who will begin tomorrow to work the cases out.

This is the first time such threats have ever been made in this section. The population of the rural section alluded to is largely colored and since the war the colored farmers have never given the white people any trouble. The mystery of the warnings is the lack of any even suspected cause.

ECONOMY IS USING ONLY THE BEST

company has made many new converts to its new products.

Frank E. Block Co.

One of the big local manufacturers who have supplied much of the good things used the past few days by Mrs. Wilson, has been the Frank E. Block Co. Saltines, oyster crackers, vanilla wafers, cracker crumbs, etc., have been used almost every day in some form or another. Mrs. Wilson has stressed to her audience that she has never found any such product quite so elegant and fresh, and has been delighted with their use.

Capital City Market.

If there had been any doubt in the minds of Atlanta housewives as to where they could secure fine, juicy, tender steaks and other meats, that doubt must have been dispelled Wednesday when she told them of her trip to the Capital City Market—told them of the sanitary and perfect market she found there—with its bountiful supply of choice meats—and then immediately broiled one of the Capital City's steaks, to make good her assertion. The steak was passed around and declared most delicious.

Knox Gelatin.

That things to eat may be beautiful as well as deliciously good was abundantly proved when the various salads and desserts were passed through the audience. The basis of these exquisite dishes was Knox gelatin, which product Mrs. Wilson considers necessary to her lectures, and very essential to any woman who wants good things in this line.

In fact, Mrs. Wilson has made so many dishes both toothsome and beautiful calling for Knox gelatin that it is very plain how valuable this wonderful woman thinks this especial product is.

A Savings Account.

Mrs. Wilson has made her talks, at times, of general nature as pertain to good housekeeping and applying business methods to the management of household affairs. "Every woman," she said, "should have her bank account, and pay her household bills by check. It is a simple and safe way to always know just where you stand, and it is most convenient. If not a regular bank account—then certainly she should have a savings account."

She called attention to the easy access of the Fourth National bank, and to the sound management of this institution. "If I lived in your city," she said, "I would certainly have a savings account. If no more—and I would put my money where I knew it was perfectly safe, and where every courtesy was accorded. That would be in the Fourth National." Mrs. Wilson and her entire party are stopping at the Ansley hotel, where they have been delighted with the treatment and courtesy accorded them.

Greece Releases Flour.

Athens, Greece, January 12.—(Via Paris.)—Upon the urgent representations of the American minister the Greek government has agreed to the immediate release of 350 sacks of flour belonging to the American Red Cross.

$500,000 Fire at Panama.

Panama, January 12.—A serious fire occurred today in Panama. The American hotel was destroyed as well as several other buildings, including retail stores and an ice factory. Several persons were slightly injured. Fire threatened the district in the neighborhood of the Panama railway station. The loss is estimated at $500,000, partially covered by insurance.

ESLAVES GIVEN 15 YEARS FOR MANSLAUGHTER

Syrian Killed Roommate With Razor After Struggle Be- hind Locked Doors.

Macon, Ga., January 12.—After deliberating all night long the jury which sat on the case of the Syrian, Assad, today returned a verdict of voluntary manslaughter in the Bibb superior court, and Judge J. A. Matthews sentenced Assad to serve fifteen years in the penitentiary. The case went to the jury yesterday evening at 6:30 o'clock and it was shortly before 12 o'clock today that a verdict was reached.

During the night Assad, who is only 20 years of age, rolled and tossed on his cot at the county jail and to his fellow prisoners he declared that the jury was going to send him to the penitentiary for life he would rather they would hang him. He fully expected to die, regardless of whether he acted in self-defense or not because in his country when one man kills another, usually he pays the penalty with his own life.

Assad killed his business partner and roommate, J. H. Hagan, at the home of Mrs. Julia Hagan, on First street, last month, cutting his throat with a razor following a desperate struggle behind locked doors. Hagan, a Syrian, was attacked by Assad with the razor and after he had taken the weapon away from him he had to kill him to save his own life. "Assad has been in this country nineteen months.

STATE RESTS ITS CASE TRIAL OF CAMPBELL

Former Marshal of Pelham, Charged With Murder, Be- fore Dougherty Court.

Albany, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—In the case of D. C. Campbell, former marshal of Pelham, on trial here for the charge of murder of Mitchell, charged with the murder of John Harrell on Easter Sunday, 1914, many witnesses for the state were examined today, the state resting shortly after 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Court reconvened at 8 o'clock, and was in session until late tonight.

The defense's witnesses will be on the stand during most of the forenoon tomorrow and the state is expected to put up a number of other witnesses in rebuttal. Every inch of the trial is covered in being closely contested and interest in the case has not flagged for a moment in spite of the fact that Judge Cox is holding final sessions, it will probably be late Friday before the case goes for the jury.

Nearly all the witnesses thus far examined were eye-witnesses of the tragedy, which began its beginning in a crowded street of Pelham.

MURDERED WHITE MAN DISCOVERED IN WELL

Sylvania, Ga., January 12.—(Special.)—The body of a white man was found today by a group of men about two miles north of Sylvania on the National highway. The sheriff was notified at once, and the body taken out. The man evidently had been murdered, his head having been crushed in with some heavy instrument. He has not yet been identified. He was apparently about thirty years of age, of medium size and height, had dark hair, and the initials "W. R." tattooed on his arm. The negro who was driving the car of an automobile that had gone up to the well last Friday night, but thought nothing of it until the body was discovered this morning. No one is missing around here.

GEORGIA FARMER CAUGHT IN "MOONSHINE" NET

Fort Smith, Ark., January 12.—J. B. Thomas, of Miller, Ga., pleaded guilty in federal district court here today to a charge of conspiracy with other persons in connection with the so-called "moonshine" whisky conspiracy. Thomas has been a liberty on $10,000 bond. Sentence was not announced today. He is the eighth defendant in the case to plead guilty.

COTTON BALE WEIGHTS ANNOUNCED BY HESTER

New Orleans, January 12.—Secretary Hester, of the New Orleans cotton exchange, today issued a statement of weights of cotton bales for the cotton handled at outports and across the Mississippi, Ohio and Potomac rivers overland to American manufacturing centers outside of the cotton belt during the months of August to December inclusive, showing an average of 484.55 lbs. at 52.03 cents for the same period last year.

Detailed averages are:

Texas ports, 538.48, against 533.52 last year.

Louisiana ports, 520.81, against 524.80; Alabama, 521.74, against 528.52; Georgia ports, 502.84, against 508.24; South Carolina ports, 498.48, against 502.12; Virginia ports, 481.88, against 488.28; Tennessee, 471.88, against 478.28.

These averages were based on official returns of the secretaries and superintendents of the cotton exchange and exports at ports in the states named.

Improved Shipping Prospects Caused Small Rise in Cotton

Optimistic Talk of Continued Activity in Goods Trade Was Also Aid to Stimulation of Market.

New York, January 12.—Talk of increasing exports and an improvement in shipping conditions gave the cotton market a steadier tone today and after an early decline to 12.47 for March, prices rallied to 12.55 for that position. The general list closed steady, net unchanged to 9 points higher, with the more active old crop deliveries ruling about one to four points above last night's closing figures.

The market opened steady at a decline of 4 points to an early rally of 1 point, with the new crop relatively firm. Cables were disappointing and there was some selling here by houses with Liverpool connections under which the active months soon eased off to a net loss of about 2 to 3 points with May closing at 12.47, July at 12.43, and October at 12.59. A good part of the English selling, however, was supposed to be in the way of hedging purchases of cotton made in the latter part of the week, while otherwise offerings were limited and it looked as though the scattering long interest accumulated toward the end of last week had been pretty well liquidated.

At any rate the market steadied shortly after the opening on rumors that the high freight rates prevailing from the northwest to Europe was attracting vessels from Central and South America trade routes, and claims that the export domestic trade interests were among the buyers of the cotton. It carried May contracts up to 12.75; July to 12.51; October 12.58 in the late trading.

Spot cotton quiet, middling uplands, 12.50; new Orleans bales.

Reports of continued activity in the port of London, particularly in the case of heavy cotton cloths, probably helped to rally prices from the early level.

Spot cotton quiet, middling uplands, 12.50; new Orleans bales.
